Study Abroad

Student Funding

Full-time undergraduates who study outside the UK as part of their course are eligible for loans for living costs from Student Finance England in the usual way. However, the overseas rate of maintenance loan is approximately £1,500 per year less than the rate that is received while studying in London (living away from home rate).

Travel Grant

If you are studying abroad for the majority of a term you could receive a Travel Grant. This covers the cost of all necessary qualifying travel, less a disregard of £303. You must fund the first £303 of travel yourself. The grant also covers other incidental costs such as visas, vaccinations and medical insurance. You can apply for the Travel Grant on the main application for full-time student finance. Student Finance England will then send eligible students a Travel Grant application form.

The Travel Grant is income-assessed.

Erasmus

Under the Erasmus scheme, in addition to the Student Finance England funding package and Travel Grant (see above), you can normally also receive a non-means-tested Erasmus Grant. In the 2017/18 academic year the study abroad grant payable will depend on the host country and may be €280 to €330 per month, based on country costs. For criteria and restrictions, please read the Erasmus webpages:

www.londonmet.ac.uk/international/study-abroad-programmes/outgoing-students/erasmus/

The Erasmus grant is paid in two or three instalments (depending on the length of your period abroad): London Met aims to make the first payment within the first month of the commencement of your placement but this depends on you returning the relevant paperwork on time.

Post-2012 starters who qualify for UK student funding and study abroad for a year will be charged £1,385 by London Met, and may apply for a fee loan from Student Finance England to meet this cost. If you study for a semester abroad than full fees are due.

From 2014/15 Erasmus years will be counted by Student Finance England in previous study calculations.

Insurance

Some institutions require that you have proof of insurance before you can enrol; but even if they do not, make sure you insure yourself for £1,000,000 medical costs and repatriation in case something goes seriously wrong while you are away. Turkish universities will ask you to buy their own health insurance as it is now a requirement to have the policy written in Turkish, with your name and date of birth on it, in order to secure a Turkish residency permit. This can cost around £165 but is one of the extra expenditures that your Erasmus grant is intended for.

There is free travel insurance cover available for students under London Met's insurance policy. The cover is fully comprehensive, however it does not provide cover for civil liability required by some French universities. The cover is for London Met students only and it does not cover dependents. Please ensure that you complete the insurance form provided by the International Programmes Office. You will receive your insurance policy by email.
