SUPPOSE that a customer asked you, "What is the prevailing style in chairs?" What would you answer? To help you to meet such a question we invite you to view, at our showrooms, a range of new Parker-Knoll designs and covers.

In analysing the various types represented you will find that our Autumn range covers a wider field in both traditional and contemporary styles. At the same time you will observe that we maintain the high standards of craftsmanship and material which are so essential for furniture that is to take an honoured place in English homes.
