Student Research Ethics Application Process

Who?
Postgraduate research students (PhD, DProf, DBA)

What?
All postgraduate research student projects

Policies & guidance
- Research Ethics Policy and Procedures
- Code of Good Research Practice
- Research Ethics webpage

Student

Research Ethics Review Panel

Completes research ethics application and submits to supervisor(s)

Application approved by supervisor(s) is submitted to the Research Ethics Review Panel by student

Review by School Research Ethics Review Panel (RERP)
For list of RERP chairs, please visit Student Zone

3 weeks

1st review
Application returned with comments to the applicant

Application declined with a possibility for resubmission

Applicant responds to comments and returns the revised application for a review to RERP

Application approved

2 - 3 weeks

2nd review (if required)
Application returned with comments to the applicant

Application declined with a possibility for resubmission

Applicant responds to the comments and returns the revised application for a review

Application approved

2 - 3 weeks

3rd review (if required)
Application returned with comments to the applicant

Application declined with a possibility for resubmission

Applicant responds to the comments and returns the revised application for a review

Application approved

2 - 3 weeks

4th review (if required)
Application returned with comments to the applicant